

Ambassadors for The Center for Fine Art Photography

The Center for Fine Art Photography seeks Members worldwide to serve as Ambassadors representing the Center within their city or region. Ambassadors are people actively involved in their photography community through education, photography organizations, business, blogs, or in other capacities in which they have regular contact with groups of photographers.

Ambassadors help publicize the Center's calls for entry and any of the Center's events taking place in the Ambassador's area. Ambassadors are provided with letter-size posters as pdf files, that are ready to print. The posters and email size e-card announcements can then be distributed as posters to camera clubs, coffee houses, galleries, schools or as an email attachment to photographer's and related contacts.
